Natalie and Doug,

Some CAG members have just found out that today, a select group of CAG members will be attending a meeting at the EPA to discuss the Gowanus Superfund. At this time we understand the meeting was organized by Dan Wiley of the congresswomen's office and Dan has let Katia know that there is no room for any more.

There are serious concerns that this meeting was organized with the intent to edit out community perspectives favoring a sincere environmental removal of concentrated toxic matter, while favoring the those select CAG members who's non-profit organizations get much funding from the PRP's.

The organizers and select participants can put what ever spin their want on their need to excluded others in this meeting, but it is never the less selective exclusion of the community, specifically those who are participating in the CAG.

This is a matter that needs to be address at the coming CAG meeting.

Regards,
Marlene
